Adapting to our current circumstances, this year SIRCC, the Scottish Institute for Residential Child Care's annual gathering, will take place in a new format.

We'd be delighted if you could join us for SIRCC 2020 online, where we'll be sharing updates, webinars, reflective points, practical resources and more with the residential child care community over a 2 week period.

Join the discussion and get instant updates on Facebook or Twitter, and visit the SIRCC web page, where we'll collate resources every day. Except for the webinars, there's no registration required.

ORDINARY

What has the 'extraordinary ordinary' meant to you and the young people you care for?

We're interested in hearing more about the experiences, challenges, and new or changing ways of working from those working in residential child care, and the young people themselves.

We'd like you to send us examples that capture the experience of the last few months - this can be a photograph, drawing, poem or quote, short video, or audio message. We'll be sharing these during #SIRCC2020 Online.
